POSITION DESCRIPTION:
The primary purpose of this position is to administer the Counseling Psychology degree program in the School of Professional Studies at William Jessup University. Curriculum maintenance and development; faculty recruitment, selection, training, assessment, mentoring, and coordination; assessment of student learning and program effectiveness; and teaching, are included. This position will work under the direct supervision of the Director of the School of Professional Studies and shall collaborate with the Psychology department of the traditional undergraduate program on academic issues through their Academic Dean/Chair.

DUTIES:
1. Plan, coordinate, and implement the curriculum development and revision processes for the Counseling Psychology degree program including coaching, directing and overseeing the contract process with outside curriculum writers. Direct writing/revision of curriculum for issues of general corrections; text, literature and resource changes; and modifications in policies and procedures is expected. It is anticipated that the candidate will conduct approximately two major and four minor course development or revision projects per year.
2. Conduct research for literature, articles, journals, videos, activities, case studies and other resources to be used in curriculum development including obtaining permission for utilization of said resources in accordance with copyright issues.
3. Recruit, train, assess and coach both adjunct and full-time traditional faculty that may teach in SPS, including both our Rocklin and San Jose sites. Position will require active participation and a leadership role in periodic adjunct faculty meetings.
4. Teach three SPS courses per term (9 courses per year) as part of the position. Additional courses taught in excess of nine per year will be paid additional compensation at adjunct instructor contract rates under SPS contracted pay schedule.
5. Plan and implement assessment of educational effectiveness and program review for the Counseling Psychology program, involving appropriate faculty in these efforts. Participate in associated in-service opportunities and other accreditation related events.
6. Serve as a committee member for up to two standing committee’s as designated.
7. Office hours of approximately 20 hours/week during normal work hours (8 a.m. to 5 p.m.) will be required to collaborate with SPS staff and other university personnel on a regular and non-regular scheduled basis. Other work hours will include evening and weekends for various teaching and other academic activities. Some work will be completed off campus as necessary to fulfill the requirements of this position.
8. This position is a full-time faculty position subject to the applicable vacation, sick days and holidays commensurate with University policy.
